

H.L. Hunley Mobile Exhibit

The H.L. Hunley Mobile Exhibit is a full size replica of the H.L. Hunley submarine. It was built in the spring and summer of 2004 by John Dangerfield and Holton Cutler and with the help of about 15 volunteers. The H.L. Hunley Mobile Exhibit made it's debut at The Battle of Franklin in September 2004.

The purpose of the Mobile Exhibit is to educate the public about the H.L. Hunley Submarine and raise funds for the H.L. Hunley Conservation Project. The H.L. Hunley Mobile Exhibit is a non-profit organization.
